AWARD FOR PRODUCTION TO BE PRESENTED FARM BEACH COUNTY FARMERS, CEREMONIES NOV. 30

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

Primary election time is getting nearer every day. I'm convinced of this because candidates are beginning to make the rounds.

Last Saturday from Hialeah, in Dade county came the first of the gubernatorial candidates—Ernest R. Graham. Mr. Graham has served Dade county eight years in the state senate where he established himself as one of the most capable men to serve in that branch of the legislature in many years. Senator Graham is a dairyman and knows Everglades lands. His program—if it could be carried out after the election—would make of Florida a veritable land of milk and honey. He has a sane and sensible program and plans to carry it to every corner of the state in his campaign. He will among friends in Pahokee and Canal Point where he knows many people.

Then yesterday came candidate another gubernatorial candidate—Millard Caldwell, Tallahassee attorney and former congressman from West Florida. Blasting a loud, six feet four inches—he looks you squarely in the eye when he presents his candidacy. He doesn't mince words. There is no pussy-footing on any issue. Millard Caldwell talks straight from the shoulder. He has had many years experience in government, having retired voluntarily as congressman to resume his law practice. He will have to be gathering gubernatorial votes—especially in that section of Florida where he is known and highly respected.

Out of a clear blue sky last week came Ed Hamilton's announcement that he was a member of the Marines. Ed, you know, has been a candidate for congress from this the newly created sixth district. Only 33 years old Ed decided to see if Uncle Sam wanted him. Uncle Sam did and Ed said he was happy. His race for congress must wait until the war clouds are cleared.

With Ed Hamilton out of the race for congress or less likely one man from Palm Beach county in the race—L. L. Lennie Stuckey of Pahokee. Mr. Stuckey has been making contacts over the district of 11 counties and reports this week that much voluntary assistance has been pledged him in his race. Word coming in from various sections of the 11 counties is to the effect that Mr. Stuckey's candidacy is meeting with approval in many sectors. He has a straight away manner of telling the folks that he wants to win the race—that he wants to be a congressman—that he actually has the welfare of the citizens and taxpayers at heart—that seems to win him friends on every hand. His candidacy is proving more popular daily and are the panning of many weeks Stuckey will be the man all other candidates will be gunning for if they expect to serve the new sixth district as congressman.

Bill Cruse is spending 10 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cruse in Pahokee, after spending the past eight months in America. Bill is related as a master horizontal bomber.

Union Thanksgiving Services Tues. Nite

VISITS PAHOKEE

Churches of Pahokee will unite in a special Thanksgiving service on Tuesday night of next week at the Pahokee Nazarene church. The program is scheduled to start promptly at 8 o'clock.

A few years ago the idea of Union services at Thanksgiving time was conceived by Pahokee pastors and since its inception has worked out excellently. Attendance in the past has brought words of praise from the pastors and they are hoping that next Tuesday night's service will see a capacity congregation.

Devils Repeat 39 To 0 Score Over Belle Glade

In a return game with Belle Glade on Fair Field Friday night the Pahokee Blue Devils defeated the fighting Glades Rams with a score identical to that of the opening contest, 39 to 0.

The Pahokee eleven started scoring early in the first quarter when they took the ball from their opponents on a play from a pass from Branch to Wilkinson. Wilkinson marched to the one foot line where "Stokes" Smith went over for a touchdown. Branch's attempted kick for the extra point was not good.

Near the end of the second half the Blue Devils again marched this time from their own 18 to the Belle Glade 5 where Smith again plunged through left tackle for the touchdown and Branch slipped through right guard. Punderbuck made the extra point with a line drive. The final score of the game was made by Jack Danson going through his own left guard from the Belle Glade 5.

No game scheduled for this Friday night the Blue Devils started practicing this week for their annual Thanksgiving contest with the Lake Worth Trojans to be played at Lake Worth on Wednesday night, Nov. 24. Lake Worth's Bullard Field will be dedicated at this game.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the many people of Pahokee who have helped me during my recent illness in a Miami hospital. Words will not express how I feel, but I want every one to know that I am deeply appreciative.

Kitty Sasser.

Osteen Tells Lions Of Foot Ball Work

At the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Lions Club Coach Frank Osteen told of his work in training the Pahokee Blue Devil football team and thanked the Lions for their support of the Athletic Council.

The Lions gave a rising vote of thanks to Attorney Archie Harris for his legal services in the purchase of the Lions new clubhouse which he tendered free of charge.

At the directors meeting held on Tuesday night the Lions voted to hold an auction sale at their Nov. 30 meeting with each member to bring a wrapped package for auction. Proceeds from the sale will go toward meeting the expense of remodeling and repairing the clubhouse. Joe Hutton and Roy Segre were appointed to have charge of final repairs. Dunham Fugitt was named to make arrangements to have PTA officials present a program at a December meeting of the club.

Pahokee Baptist To Erect New S. S. Class Rooms

The First Baptist Church of Pahokee, will construct a frame building of four classrooms and assembly, to accommodate the newly organized Intermediate Sunday School organization with Mrs. C. A. Moberg, Superintendent. Mr. W. M. Dubose has been added to the teaching staff, with Mrs. Dubose teaching the Young Woman's Class. Othman Gilbert was elected Assistant Sunday School Superintendent to Ira York. An installation service of the entire faculty is planned for the near future.

The second of the series of special Christmas sermons, "Christ's Coming Forth," will be preached Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock hour. A vocal duet will be rendered by Rev. and Mrs. Moberg. "He's the One".

At the evening hour of eight the pastor will speak on "What is your Type Blood?" The "Illuminated Cross Meditation Sing" will again be conducted, with augmentation by the Pahokee Baptist musical family of orchestra, Junior and Intermediate choirs.

A new Wednesday night prayer and praise service has been adopted, beginning at eight and closing at nine, promptly. The first twenty minutes are for congregational singing, the second for prayer and the third for Bible study, led by the pastor. Some thirty-five responded last Monday night to the pastors call for a cleaning and oiling of the building. New choir chairs will be added shortly and carpet will be placed on the aisles.

Bitting Recovers Following Operation

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—(FNS)—Clarence R. Bitting, president of the United States Sugar Corporation, who recently underwent an operation for stomach ulcers at St. Vincent's hospital in New York City, is reported recuperating satisfactorily and plans to return to Florida to rest up as soon as his physicians permit.

Union Services For Canal Point Wednesday Night

A union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Canal Point Methodist Church on Wednesday, November 26, at 8 p. m. o'clock. The service will consist of the singing of the old familiar Thanksgiving songs, praise, and testimony. Rev. S. B. Jordan will be the preacher.

Let us all come together to offer thanks to God for freedom and democracy for the fact that our country has not been invaded and that we are still free to worship God under the dictates of our conscience.

—E. S. Doherty, S. B. Jordan, Pastors.

Marine Paulette Visits Pahokee

Cpl. Jack Curtis Paulette of the U. S. Marine Corps, who recently returned from the Pacific, spent the weekend in Pahokee visiting friends and relatives.

Cpl. Paulette joined the Marines 22 months ago and was with the First Raider Battalion that invaded the Solomon Islands, landing at Tulagi on Aug. 7, 1942. After the Japs were cleaned out of this island he joined the Marine Raiders at Guadalcanal on Oct. 13 and fought there until the Army took over and his battalion was sent back to a rest base. Later he was among the Marines that invaded the New Georgia Island group.

In addition to several ribbons Cpl. Paulette has been awarded four campaign stars and a Presidential citation star. He brought home with him several souvenirs of the many battles he has been in.

Eugene Pickren In Special Training

Pvt. Eugene D. Pickren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Pickren of Pahokee, has arrived at St. Joseph's University for a course of Army Air Force instruction lasting approximately five months prior to his appointment as an Aviation Cadet in the Army Air Corps. During this period he will take numerous academic courses, as well as elementary flying training. Upon completion of the course he will be classified as a navigator or bombardier and go on to schools of the Flying Training Command for training in these specialties.

Rev. Johnson Will Conduct Revival

The executive board of the Pahokee Methodist Church announced at the meeting last Thursday night that Rev. Ralph Johnson, evangelist of Chattanooga, Tenn., would return to Pahokee on Jan. 23 for a two week revival continuing through Feb. 6. Evangelist Johnson conducted a revival at the Pahokee Methodist Church last winter.

Local Bean Prices Continue To Bring Profitable Returns

The bean deal on the magic soil in the Lake Okechobee Region rolls merrily on. Farmers are receiving profitable returns on their shipments and movement is heavy. The peak of the fall shipping season should come within the next few days. The average for the past several days has been 75 cents daily.

Blacks have been selling from $3.00 to $3.75 per bushels while bountiful have brought $2.10 up to $2.65. Fertilizers have been selling from $2.50 to $2.80.

A few Italian peppers have been moving at prices between $3.50 to $4.00. Some crooked neck squashes have brought $3.50. Some Italian squashes have sold for $3.50.

The heaviest fall movement of corn known in the Lake Region is being shipped this year. The price has been good and yesterday it sold for $1.60 per bag of five dozen. The quality this fall is unusually good. Demand is good and contractors are kept busy making an effort to fill orders.

County Rotarians Meet At Ranch

Palm Beach county Rotarians met at J-Bar Ranch near Loxahatchee on Tuesday of this week for their monthly meeting. Herbert S. Johnson, proprietor of the ranch, To reach the meeting place it was necessary to cross the West Palm Beach canal and there were two Seminoles in native dress to safely transport the Rotarians across the canal.

A delightful luncheon of swamp cabbage salad, potato salad, barbecued kid and pork, beef stew, ice cream and hot coffee was thoroughly enjoyed by the visitors.

Presidents of the various clubs in the county were presented by Chairman Alf Nielsen. The visiting presidents in turn presented members of their organizations. There were 166 visitors present.

W. J. Sheely, animal husbandry specialist at the University of Florida, was the speaker for the occasion. He was introduced by County Agent M. U. Mounts.

Dates Announced For Vacations

School in the Glades will be dismissed next Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving holidays.

FOR GOVERNOR

Ernest R. Graham
Dade County State Senator

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 18.—Ernest R. Graham, farmer and dairyman and Dade County Senator, today announced his candidacy for Governor of Florida.

Sound property, based on a united Florida, with all sections of the state working in close harmony, will be the watchword of the Graham program, Mr. Graham pointed out that with the rich tourist and industrial centers serving as market outlets for farm, dairy, beef, and poultry products of the north and west rural areas of the state, at least another $4,000,000 can be put into the state treasury without a single additional tax burden.

Envisioning the Florida tourist industry alone as a $500,000,000 business, Graham said records show $400,000,000 or $500,000,000 of this must be spent for meat, poultry, dairy and farm products. Of this amount, statistics reveal 10 cents out of every dollar finds its way into the state treasury through gasoline taxes, auto license taxes and other forms.

Rural section leaders already have welcomed the program, he said, for they see as a solution of their financial problems, and representative groups of heavily populated areas endorse the plan because they see a rural Florida standing on its own legs, producing reliefing a drain on the state treasury which will be reflected in future tax bills, throughout the state.

Although he has not yet announced his complete program, Senator Graham will submit that in sound business principles lies the solution of the state's financial problems.

Supr. Marcus C. ("Daddy") Fagg calls on Floridians for all the help they can give at this time. Contributions of cash, in large or small amounts, will be appreciated as will gifts of food and clothing, which should be sent to the United States War Home, 2590 Riverside Avenue, Jacksonville, by parcel post or express.

Miss Salvatore Engaged To Marine Jack Paulette

Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Salvatore, Sr. of Pahokee announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lebonie, to Cpl. Jack Curtis Paulette, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cleveland Paulette of Tampa.

Both Miss Salvatore and Cpl. Paulette are graduates of the Pahokee High School. He recently returned from the United States Army where he served for 18 months of service in the Southwest Pacific where he was with the Marine Raider Battalion, 1st Marine Division, Guadalcanal. She is a student at the Gordon Keller School of Nursing in Tampa.

The date of the wedding has not been set.

PRUDENT PUPIL

Participants in the navy college training program at Miami university are taught to abandon ship in the municipal swimming pool. During a practice session, a student perched on a diving board was reluctant to leap.

"Go ahead!" ordered the instructor, "jump!"

"The youth hesitated. The command was repeated."

"What would you do?" asked the exasperated teacher, "if that diving board were a sinking ship?"

"I would wait," said the frankly scared pupil, "until it sank about 10 feet more!"—Collier County News.

OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE

There is no discrimination, no racial or economic barrier, no social hurdle anywhere in the wide open opportunity to every Floridian who has the time and talent for farm or food processing work. Wages are the same, piecework scales are the same, the nature and conditions of employment are the same for all.

The man or woman, grown boy or girl, white or colored, illiterate or educated, who can pick 100 crates of oranges a day, will be paid just as much as any other person who picks 100 crates of oranges a day. The amount of pay seems fantastic to anyone who picked oranges several years ago; it is enough, to satisfy anyone accustomed to field labor—enough to provide a surplus of earnings to lay by in war bonds for future needs, as a safeguard against hard times, or to invest in land or make a down payment on a lot or a home.

The classes of Floridians who have felt the lack of opportunity to better their lot, to show how a wide, smooth path open to them can be made, are working industriously on the farms, groves and in the processing plants of Florida, any family can earn enough to make a start toward home ownership and security.—Tallahassee Democrat.

POST WAR PRICES

Your post-war auto may cost at least 25 per cent more than your pre-war model.

Detroit executives don't like to talk about it. When reporters pressed two of them on the subject recently they pointed out to uncertainties about wages, materials, size of production. But fact remains that wage rates in the auto industry now are 33 per cent above the 1933 level. Tire makers pay their help 23 per cent more; steel mills (the auto industry is their best peacetime customer) wages have gone up 36 per cent. Wages represent the largest part of a finished auto's cost.

One large refrigerator manufacturer plans to put post-war products on the market at less than pre-war prices. How? By reorganizing its distribution, sharply cutting the margin between manufacturing and retail price.—Wall Street Journal.

EXTRA CAUTIOUS

A dear old lady visited The Better Business Bureau to complain about lack of prompt dividend on a security she had purchased. Upon investigation, it turned out that the whole scheme she had invested in was a fraud.

"Why didn't you consult us first?" the BBB official asked. "We might have saved your money for you."

"I know," said the old lady, "but it sounded so good—I was afraid you wouldn't let me buy it."—Investment Dealers Digest.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

by Russell Kay

An amazing document came out of Collier County not long ago in the form of a report and declaration of policy by the Board of County Commissioners.

Following a detailed accounting of their stewardship, which reflected uncommon ability and management with finances and operations in a healthy condition, these Commissioners proposed to their people that from here on out Collier County should "resist temptation," and, standing on its own feet, assume control of its own destiny.

growing the past part of our local government's activities in relinquishing more and more of their rights and privileges and sacrifice the free and sovereign control of their own affairs on the altar of greed and selfishness, they propose the return to a sound policy of reason and common sense.

"As did a tempted Christ on the mountain," Collier County cries out: "Get thee behind me, Satan! and make nothing do to with the

MINDING THE DOCTOR

Colonel Mason was a popular railroad executive down South-Kentucky, suh—while extensive participants in the social amenities of the community included the partaking of much liquor.

One day the colonel fell ill and when he called in a doctor he was told that if he wished to remain in the land of the living he would have to limit his drinking to a single highball a day.

A few months later he was visiting a friend in New York, when the latter opened a bottle of prime Scotch. Refilling the colonel's glass for the third time, the friend remarked, "Look here, Colonel, I thought your doctor told you that you could have only one drink a day."

"That's right," replied the gentleman from Kentucky, "savin'—regardin' the amber fluid in his uplifted glass, "and I'm keeping strict account. This is my drink for Sept. 23 of next year."—Collier County News.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The Dathan (Ala.) Eagle threatens to take a tip from a "persuader" used by Henry Grady while editor of the Rome (Ga.) Tribune. When a store proprietor to whom Grady tried to sell soap, countered "No body reads your sheet," Grady put a two-line ad in the paper saying the merchant would pay cash for cats. The store was swamped with cats.

So the Eagle editor says the next time a business man doubts its pulling power in war-crowded Dathanville, will go on an ad as follows: "For rent, to army family with children and dogs, eight rooms, furnished house in good neighborhood. Central heat, two tile baths, electric range and refrigerator. Price $17.50 per month." And the disbeliever's name will be signed to it.—Editor and Publisher.

THE BARE FACTS

The pastor of a certain poverty-stricken colored congregation down in Alabama made life miserable for his bishop by his numerous and heart-rending applications for aid. At length the bishop informed him in no uncertain terms that in the future such appeals would be entirely ignored.

The bishop expressed his regret in the begging brother, but at length came another letter bearing the familiar postmark of the needy minister's little village. Shuddering, the bishop opened the communication and read:

"Dear Bishop: This here ain't no appeal. It's a report. I has no pants."—Collier County News.

AMERICAN DIET SHIFTING

Slowly but surely Washington's food planners are shifting America's diet from meat to wheat.

In the year ahead the people at home will have to rely more on bread, breakfast foods, macaroni, spaghetti, noodles and griddle cakes. They can expect less beef, pork and lamb.

For those who like corn there will be hominy, hominy grits, corn bread, spoon bread and a variety of other dishes largely popular in the South. But most Americans normally eat lots of wheat, little corn.

For people everywhere, if Washington efforts succeed, there will be a better supply of milk and more eggs—without bacon.

The reason for the shift in emphasis to cereals from meat is a simple one. There aren't enough feeds—wheat, corn, rye, oats and other items—to provide the people themselves with all they would like to eat and to satisfy this country's record population of pigs, cattle, chickens and other feed-consuming animals. So the food experts have decided that the livestock will have to get along on less.

That decision is based on the fact that the grain supply will be diverted if it is directly consumed by humans, or turned into milk and eggs, than if converted into meat.—Wall Street Journal.

English Cleared Of 'Racket' Charge

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 18.

(FNS)—Superintendent of Public Instruction Colin English and his entire staff were completely exonerated of all question in connection with the expenditures and distribution of free public school books, which had been referred to as a "racket" by Senator Raymond Shelden during the last legislative session and was investigated by the Shands Committee.

The committee, composed of Senator Wm. A. Shands, Jr., Ed Baker, John H. Beacham, Walter W. Rife and J. A. Franklin, made public its findings last week following an exhaustive and careful investigation.

Instead of disclosing any irregularities, the investigation wound up as an actual tribute to Supt. English and his department, in state having no comparable textbook problem.

A complete audit made by State Auditor Bryan Willis revealed that it is stated that the average annual cost of free school books in Florida during the past five years is lower than in any other state. The average cost per pupil for free textbooks in Florida during the period from July 1, 1937 to June 30, 1943, was .94 cents. Comparable costs in other states agencies and at the taxpayers' expense, the Collier County Commissioners have this to say:

"It is our thought that the people might bring their power to bear on such planning boards to the end that they make the best use of their pastures planning policy. Every State, Every County, Every Municipality must care for its own."

Such a policy, and it is to be hoped will bring revolution in Florida, not only of those of whom the WPA has indicted badly but, more important, in the minds of those carelessly elected to positions of fiscal responsibility whose prime objective is to get new roads leading to friend John's 10-acre farm, new schools for Potomac Crossing, new construction of doubtful need but of potential value to a non-hardworking electorate, etc. and infimum.

"Such a policy will help materially to stave off bankruptcy concomitant with social revolution, confiscation and inflation."

"We are proud of what we have been able to accomplish within the county by reducing the heavy load of taxation you bear, but we fully realize that, after all, our work has been a 'Primary School' merely and that it will be necessary for you to pool your brains with those of thousands of others like you throughout the land in 'University' fashion to prevent your load and their load becoming so heavy as to ruin the total National collapse and 'ruin'."

"With your help, Collier County Cares for Her Own" will remain nailed at our masthead. That every County in the nation may adopt a similar watchword is in our opinion the chief hope of taxpayers for the postwar period."

A Congressional Medal of Honor might well be placed on the breast of each of the two patriots who signed the above document, for they, too, lead the fight against the evil forces of madness and destruction.

Mission Group To Choose Officers

At a meeting of the Girls Missionary Group, Methodist WBSG in the church Monday night, the Misses Fay Cranford, Helen Henry and Joy Padgett were named on a committee to recommend new officers for the coming year. The committee was asked to make its report at the next meeting.

Miss Flora Mary Weeks, president, presided at the business session and Miss Margaret Anderson was in charge of the program.

Mrs. T. A. Ferguson acted as advisor at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. J. A. Dulany, secretary of girls' work. The meeting was preceded by a covered-dish supper.

Can You Picture
FLORIDA
without Highways?

A strange place it would be—this State of ours—if our splendid 29,745 mile network of improved highways suddenly ceased to exist.

A great many communities would be isolated. Others would find it infinitely more difficult to carry on even the most ordinary daily activities—with no trucks on the move, no cars or buses taking workers to war plants and farms, soldiers to camp and home on furlough, business travelers to nearby communities, children to school.

We Floridians are apt to take for granted the convenience of our excellent roads—but these highways didn't just grow. Building and maintaining them is a tremendous job and for achieving this successfully we can thank past and present administrations and particularly the Florida State Road Department.

That isn't the whole story, however. Transforming these lifeless ribbons of concrete and macadam into live, active arteries of public transportation has been the accomplishment of the Florida Railroad Commission. They've labored hard and long to give our State a transportation system that compares favorably with any other in the country.

All of us who live and work and pay taxes in Florida can take pride in our share in this highway system.

As fellow citizens, the Florida Motor Lines have made a very large contribution in the form of license, fuel and operating taxes—but we feel that our greatest service is in putting the highways to work for the benefit of all who must travel, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities we serve throughout the State.

cial problems, and by application of these principles, and without new taxes, state finances at the war's end will be sufficient to complete the too long delayed program for adequate old age assistance, teachers' salaries, child welfare, public health, charities and post-war unemployment.

In support of this he points out that his reforms in the racing laws have proven a stabilizing influence on racing and that the added five per cent tax on horse racing in his own Dade County has raised, with matching federal funds an extra $4,000,000 for the needy aged of the state. Graham, however, still insists racing is a business and therefore legislation should afford legitimate protection to that business and always make it possible for it to prosper.

When doubting Thomases question his predictions for Agricultural Florida, Senator Graham points to his own $600 acre farm home 18 miles west of Miami, which by common sense and hard work, he has transformed from a trackless Everglades swamp into one of the state's most prosperous cattle, dairy and truck farms.

An engineer in the South Dakota gold mines at the outbreak of World War I, Graham enlisted in the 309th engineers, U. S. A., and in 1919 came out as a captain. He now has two sons in the service. Following the war he came to Florida as manager for the Pennsylvania Sugar Company, bringing with him the method of a crew of 1,000 men, most of them war veterans, to begin the seemingly impossible task of draining a piece of the southeast Everglades to grow sugar cane. Senator Graham believes in the magic of Florida land and he stresses the fact that he and a number of World War I veterans who organized the first American Legion post in Hialeah, now have been made prosperous either directly or indirectly by the land developments in his own community, and "there are 20,000,000 acres of Senator Graham, now 58, has served eight years as Dade's State Senator. He was born in Crowell, Mich., educated in the public schools there and later attended Michigan State College and was graduated from the Michigan College of Mines. His wife is the former Hilda Simmons, DeFuniak Springs school teacher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Simmons. They have one son, Bobby, 7, who began grade school in Hialeah this year. His other three children by the first Mrs. Graham, who died in 1934, are Phil, now a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army aviation cadet and a daughter, Mary, now Mrs. Leo Worth Crow, Jr., whose husband is in the navy.

Senator Graham recounted that he probably is first among those responsible for the election of Governor Spessard L. Holland and by praised the present governor by saying that his keen legal mind had made possible a needed general law revision, and his tax structure reforms have been a great boon to Florida.

Holland Urges Fat Saving Campaign

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 18. (FNS)—Governor Holland this week called upon Florida's housewives to back up the nation's fighting men by bolstering the collection of vitally needed kitchen fats.

His statement followed closely a report from the War Production Board's salvage committee that, while Florida still led the Southeast in per capita used fat collections, a greater effort is needed not only to maintain leadership in this vital salvage effort but to push it still more to the front.

Used household fats furnish glycerine necessary for the manufacture of gun powder and military medicines—one tablespoonful of fat providing the necessary glycerine for four bullets.

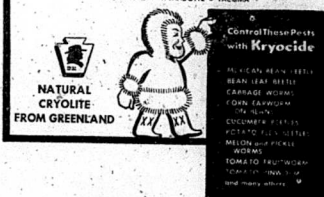

"A pound of fat," the Governor said, "salvaged from a Florida kitchen may well be the margin of victory and defeat on the battlefield."
